The Dexion Team helps the community in Fundata Village

Last weekend Dexion staff dedicated their time to helping and experiencing village life.

A group of our colleagues helped with projects to renovate some of the historic buildings and the school facilities in the village of Fundata.

After the hard work, they took part in specific games and activities that made them experience rural life, such as cooking traditional food, collecting hay and milking cows.

The Mayor of Fundata and the Fundata School Principal extended their thanks to the Dexion team for the assistance they provided in improving community life during the actions of Quest Village.

“I am pleased we could make some practical actions, assist the local community and have a lot of fun together” said Brian Howson, General Manager for Dexion Storage Solutions.
